FRIENDLESS OLD MAN ROBBED OF LIBERTY

Young Wife Tired Of Aged Husband Sends Him To Asylum

A legal travesty was enacted here Monday when an aged and friendless old man was railroaded to the asylum, and public sentiment is aroused to the boiling point.

Old man James Bear, who has passed his eightieth birthday, was the victim. Living a bachelor until he was 65 years old Uncle Jim married a very young woman. He formerly lived in the Tuffy neighborhood. About twelve years ago he bought property in Hartford and moved here. The expected happened, and the old man and the young wife disagreed. The breach widened and an actual, though not a legal separation, followed. Living in the same house but in different rooms, the couple continued the quarrel. Uncle Jim's enfeebled body was reflected in his mental faculties, and his condition may properly be described as "old and childish." Monday morning his wife made affidavit that uncle Jim was a lunatic. Trial was held immediately, and two hours later the old man was on his way to the asylum, at Hopkinsville. The evidence, according to citizens who heard it, did not justify the verdict of insanity, and some of the jurors, after the trial, expressed doubts if the verdict was a just one. However, it is natural enough for the juror in a lunacy trial to take it for granted the accused is crazy. Uncle Jim on the witness stand gave evidence of his sanity. He said he knew he was never a Solomon for wisdom, and that he knew his mind was somewhat enfeebled because of his age, but that he was not crazy.

Tuesday a number of citizens interested themselves in the case and went to Hopkinsville to consult the authorities at the asylum. These citizens advise the asylum authorities say that they see no evidence of the old man's insanity, and that after holding him a few days for observation, will notify his friends to come for him. Uncle Jim draws a pension, or a Union veteran. The morning following the sending of Mr. Bear to the asylum his wife appeared in county court and asked to be appointed a Committee to manage his business, but upon learning there was a movement on foot to bring him back she deferred action in the matter.

BREAKING THE BONDS.

"What God hath joined together" let not man put asunder" probably did not refer to the courts, and the divorce mills keep up a steady grind. Three couples have recently filed petitions with the circuit court to be released from marriage mistakes.

Pearl Millner disavows her marriage vows to E. M. Millner; alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and settled aversion. She says she and her husband were married in 1915 and lived together until 1918, when they separated.

E. T. Bishop asks for a legal separation from his wife, Nancy G. Bishop. Mr. Bishop avers he and his wife were married in 1916 and lived unhappily together until 1916. According to his petition Mrs. Bishop has been not only disagreeable but positively dangerous to his life and limb. He sets out that she has assaulted him with pokers and broomsticks, and has threatened to kill him. However, he does not allege she ever used Mrs. Jigg's favorite weapon, the rolling pin.

Jennie Peach applies for a decree of legal separation from her husband, Charlie Peach. This couple was married in 1912 and separated four years later. According to Mrs. Peach's petition her husband whipped, beat and cursed her, and otherwise made her life miserable. She says she does not know of the present whereabouts of the destroyer of her once placid peace of mind, but is anxious to terminate the period of her marital bondage.

One of the most refreshing petitions for divorce recently filed in the circuit court is that of H. F. Keeton against Rosa Keeton. H. F. alleges none of the customary charges of cruelty and inhuman treatment, and does not mention the time honored charge of settled aversion. He simply says Rosa abandoned him many moons ago, since which time she has refused to live with him. This seems to be just a plain case of a woman losing her taste for her husband. The future woosers of Rosa, should she have such, will not be embarrassed with a court record alleging a long list of disagreeable faults.

VICTORY LOAN RALLY WAS A BIG AFFAIR

The Victory Loan rally, at Hartford, Wednesday, was a big affair, and brought one of the biggest crowds seen here in a long time. The special train, carrying the mammoth battle tank arrived on time, at 7:00 in the morning, and a good crowd was already there to meet it. In the meantime the banks of the county had arranged to take the entire allotment of bonds, and no effort at bond sales was attempted. At eleven o'clock the tank left the car and on its own power paraded the streets, stopping in front of the court house. The course of the strange fighting monster was followed by an army of people, who expressed wonder and amazement at the murderous looking engine of death. At the court house a number of speeches were made by soldier boys, who recounted their experiences on the field of battle and the audience responded with enthusiasm. Promptly at two o'clock the tank was loaded on the flat car and left for Harlinsburg.

FATHER AND SON DIE IN FLAMES

Owensboro, Ky. April 14.—Ivan McCarthy and his 4-year-old son lost their lives by being burned to death about 2 o'clock this morning when their house was destroyed by fire, near Askin, in Ohio county. Mrs. McCarthy, who was in bed at the time was badly burned, but escaped through a side door. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue and when discovered by Mr. McCarthy the roof was falling in. Mr. McCarthy and his little son were trapped in the burning building. In opening a partition door Mrs. McCarthy was badly burned about the face and body, but it is not believed she will die.

FLAG SERVICE.

There will be a flag service held at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, at Beda, the third Sunday in April, for the soldier boys of Beda precinct. All the boys returned from Europe, or the camps, together with their parents and friends, are urged to be present. An interesting program will be arranged, and an interesting and pleasant day will be spent.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG

(By I. D. Claire.)
All the people want good roads, but some people want to pay for 'em and others want to pray for 'em.

If Ben Taylor does get married me and Tias is a goin' to give the wedding a joint write up.

They say talk is cheap, but 't don't appear that way to a feller who is answerin' a slantier suit.

The stock law don't do much good a-keepin' the automobile hog from runnin' at large.

People is funny. They never give any credit to the administration of city or county that gits it out of debt.

The younger generation would run the train of progress off the track if the older one didn't keep the breaks on.

If Browder had a give me that flin-bunch of tobacco before I writ him up last week I'd a said a heap nice things than I did about him.

One of Hartford's young ladies had the tooth ache a few days last week and looks like a corpse. If it'd been the heart ache I guess she'd acted like one, seem' as how she can't stan trouble.

Fillmore Gossett's statue would repose in the Hall of Fame if I was makin' the fame statues. He brought me the finest twist of burley I've seen in many a day.

The feller who is always courtin' public favor hardly ever wins it. It seems like the public sorter takes to the feller who don't care a tinker's d--n whether it likes him or not.

About the only consolation about livin' in town is that you don't have to sweat and cuss and tear your clothes gatherin' blackberries. In dog days.

One of Hartford's lady-loving young men drove out in the country Sunday, and while there a calf flicked all the dust and most of the paint off his car, and Tins was mean enough to say the young man put salt on his car as an inducement to the calf to lick the dust off. Some people just will be uncharitable.

Mr. Rosal Park, who has been over seas for some time and who is now at Camp Taylor, is expected home shortly.

Miss Golda Daughn spent Saturday night and Sunday, with relatives, of the Washington community.

Miss Haven Berry and sister, Mrs. Ivan Park, were in Owensboro, the first of the week.

Monroe Lee, a soldier boy, who has been stationed in a southern camp, has returned to his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Longfellow, of—are visiting relatives, here.

A series of meetings began at the new Advent Church, near Hartford, Sunday night.

Dr. J. R. Pirle and son, of Hartford, spent Sunday with B. M. Combs and family.

WHITESVILLE.

Every one seems to be very busy preparing for Easter.

Several from here attended the entertainment at Herbert Saturday night, and every one reported a jolly time.

Mr. Evan Owen spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. B. A. Show and family.

Mr. N. W. Mosley and Mr. Hosea Shown were in Roseville, Saturday, on business.

Mrs. Lyla E. Cecil is visiting in Owensboro, at present.

Mr. Herman Mldkiff and Mr. Walter Ganan returned to Owensboro Monday morning after spending Saturday and Sunday with their parents.

Mr. Allen Litsey is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lafa Litsey.

HEPLIN.

Sunday School was organized at Woodward's Valley, with a good crowd present. Everybody is invited to attend and take part.

Misses Cora and Orabel Thomasson visited their brother, Mr. Noble Thomasson and family, at Smallhouse,

Mr. Joe Thomasson and daughter, Eva, visited his nephew, Mr. Almond Duke, at Sunnydale, from Tuesday until Thursday.

WEST PROVIDENCE.

Elder Edgar Allen filled his regular appointment here Saturday, and was unanimously called for another year's service.

Rev. Albert Maddox preached here Sunday.

Mr. Miram Carter, who has been in France, has been discharged from service, and returned to his home, Wednesday.

Mr. Kenneth Maddox has moved into his new residence.

Mrs. W. B. Wright's funeral service will be conducted by Elder Edgar Allen, at West Providence Church, the second Sunday in May, at 2 P. M.

Mr. Dick McConnell has received a telegram, stating that his son, Bove, has landed in the United States.

Mrs. Ora Maddox, of Hartford, is the guest of her brother, Mr. Azzie Maddox, for a few days before going to her new home, at Island Station.

CAT CATCHES FISH.

Truth is stranger than fiction, especially Steve May's brand of truth. Steve vouches for the following story. He got a cat from one of the neighbors warranted to clean up all the mice and rats about the place, in a week. That is, the cat was warranted, not the neighbor. After the cat had been on the premises a few days the rodents disappeared, and soon the cat began to look hungry and lean. A few days later Steve, who lives on the bank of Rough river, observed the cat eating fish. Seeing that oc-cure from day to day he got curious to know how the cat got the fish, and decided to watch her. Following her one morning Steve saw her knock over a crawfish chimney, pull the crustacean out of the hole with her paw, and leisurely proceed to the river. She walked out on a log extending into the water, adjusted the crawfish to the tip of her tail and waited. A few minutes later the cat rushed to the bank with a fish a foot long drawn by her tail. Steve vouches for the absolute truth of this story.

BANKS TAKE BONDS.

The bond sale in Ohio county is over, the banks having agreed to take the entire issue, amounting to $165,000. A general sales campaign had been planned, and committees appointed and organized to have the matter in charge in the various sections of the county when the announcement was made Monday afternoon that the banks would take the whole amount. The action of the banks in taking all of the issue was to relieve the public of the burden, but people wanting bonds in any amount, as an investment, may have them upon application to any bank in the county.

Mike Welch, of Point Pleasant, died suddenly in Owensboro, Monday. Mr. Welch was a brick and tile kiln setter, and was on his way home from doing some yard work in Michigan, when he died. He had ordered a meal at a restaurant and while waiting for service turned sick. A waiter observed his condition and offered assistance, but he died within a few minutes. His remains were buried at Point Pleasant, Tuesday.

Mr. Wayland Rhoads, of Lexington, with the Animal Industry division of the State Agricultural Department, was here three days last week, instructing our farmers in the matter of cattle feeding and the building and arranging of cattle barns. Mr. Rhoads is a son of Prof. McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of the Lexington City Schools, and who was formerly a citizen of Hartford.

Frost and storms and fires frequently upset the best laid plans, and an avalanche of advertising has upset our news business this week. So many of them came in at the eleventh hour that we are unable to distribute them through the paper. Henceforth we shall prepare for such an emergency, and shall not let it occur again.

BIG ROAD MEETING SATURDAY APRIL 26

Owensboro-Bowling Green Route Four County Project

Mack Cook, Judge of the Ohio county court, has called a meeting of the road and fiscal officials of Ohio, Davless, Butler and Warren counties to meet at Beaver Dam, Saturday, April 26, to discuss the feasibility of building a state and federal aid highway from Owensboro to Bowling Green. The proposed highway will run through Pleasant Ridge, Buford, Hartford, Beaver Dam, Cronwell, Borah's Ferry, Morgantown and on to Bowling Green. The officials of the counties mentioned have accepted the invitation to the meeting, and the support of the four counties is assured. The meeting will open at 1:00 o'clock P. M. Citizens as well as officials of the counties at interest are urged to attend and take part in the meeting. Rodman Wiley, State Road Commissioner will be present.

Mr. Wiley is planning to build a number of such highways in the state with state and federal aid, and is urging the people to map out the roads they want built. Ohio county has already nearly half the road through the county and may get this very important highway without considerable extra expense. Every friend of good roads in the county should attend this meeting, and lend encouragement to the enterprise.

The origin of the Easter rabbit is unknown. There is a German legend to the effect that the hare was originally a bird and was changed into a quadruped by the Goddess Ostara, and in gratitude to Ostara, or Eostre, the hare exercises its original bird function to lay eggs for the goddess on her festival day. The children among the Pennsylvania Germans are told on Easter morning that this "Osther hase" laid the colored eggs that are given to them, or which are placed in nests at some convenient place for the children to find them.

SILENT DEATH SHIP GUERRILLA OF SKIES

Pilotless Airship Will Bomb Cities And Armies

In an address at Fort Worth, Tex., a short time ago, Secretary of War Baker disclosed that a successful automatic control for airships had been invented in America. In testing this invention, he said, a machine with a pilot was sent out first. The pilot located a distant objective and then returned to the starting point without making a landing. Then another plane, equipped with the new automatic control apparatus set to land at the designated point, was started without a pilot. The machine landed so close to the predetermined spot that if it had been a shell from a big gun it would have been considered a good shot.

Mr. Baker referred to the invention to show how terrible future wars may be if there is no league of nations to stop them, intimating that the device has tremendous potentialities as an agent of destruction.

A British non-rigid airship recently started from the Elth of Forth, flew over the North sea, directly toward Denmark, and made a circuit embracing the coast of Denmark, Schleswig-Holstein, Heligoland, north Germany and Holland. The weather was extremely unfavorable but the round trip of 1,285 miles was covered without a stop in about 49½ hours. This flight was the largest non-stop ever made by the British airship and is believed to have established a world's record for non-rigid aircraft.

A British flier not long ago covered the distance of 172 miles between Falkstone, England, and Paris in 74 minutes. This record flight which was at the rate of about two and a third miles a minute is said to have set a new mark for aerial voyages across the English channel.

An American mail-carrying plane a few days ago flew over 200 miles in 125 minutes with a load of mail between New York and Washington. This was at the average of one and three-fifths miles a minute.

A prize of $50,000 has been offered by the Commonwealth of Australia for the first successful flight between Australia and Great Britain by Australian aviators. The London Daily Mail has offered a like prize for the first successful trans-Atlantic flight between Europe and America. Two British fliers who have entered for the prize propose to undertake the flight in a 375-horse-power plane capable of making 95 miles an hour with a load of a little more than 2600 pounds.

Plans are now being made by American naval officers for a flight across the Atlantic in seaplanes but they will not compete for the London newspaper prize. It is proposed to use machines of a type that some time ago carried 51 passengers in a test flight. Three seaplanes now at Rockaway Beach, Long Island, from which the machines are to start, have three Liberty motors each, with a combined horsepower of 1000 to 1200. A fourth plane is to have four such engines. It is announced. The machines have wings 125 feet long and 12 feet wide and are capable of approximately 100 miles an hour.

From Rockaway Beach the planes will fly northward and start the real trans-Atlantic voyage from some point on the North Atlantic coast, possibly in Newfoundland. It is said that the machines will carry wireless outfits. These, with the aid of relays through the destroyers which are to be stationed along the route, will enable them to communicate at any time with the shore.

The weather bureau is working on the preparation of special charts and data relative to air currents, atmospheric conditions, etc., for the guidance of the fliers. It is said also that they will have special, lately designed instruments to aid them in the flight.

Experienced airplane builders are convinced that under existing mechanical conditions only huge flying boats, equipped with four or more powerful motors, can be counted on to make a successful continuous voyage across the ocean. It is pointed out that the machine would have to be large and powerful in order to carry the required supply of gasoline and that several engines would be necessary as a guarantee against failure resulting from an engine breakdown.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTOR OIL STILL PURCHASE WIVES.

Miss Katherine Wilson, of Dallas, Texas, a missionary of the M. E. Church, South, to Africa, has written recently to her parents that the missionaries are having a hard time getting enough little African girls together to form a school. Miss Wilson walked a long distance to another village in an effort to get a few girl children to come to school. The chief told them very politely, but finally, that all the little girls of his village had been purchased as wives and their fathers had no further jurisdiction over them. One of the results of the Centenary Movement of the M. E. Church, South, will be the establishment of schools in Africa in the hope of uplifting degraded womanhood on the Dark Continent.

PROMINENT DOCTOR AFTER TRY- ING OUT ALL OTHER CHILL TONICS SAYS MENDEN- HALL'S BEST

Dr. R. S. Flores, proprietor city pharmacy, Marianna, Fla., writes: "A few years ago when I purchased this drug store I found six dozen bottles of Mendenhall's Chill & Fever Tonic in stock and it was totally unknown to me. I noted on the circular the quinine strength and placed it in the hands of a number of my patients to try it out. They were so universally pleased with the preparation I decided to try it in my own family and my wife now will use no other for our children." Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

MAN OR MULE WAGES— WHICH IS WORTH MORE?

Here is a story that one of the managers of the Centenary Campaign of the Methodist Episcopal Church picked up in one of the faraway rural districts that is being reached in this movement for Christianity.

The mule was hitched to a two-horse wagon. The man stood by, waiting for the wagon to be loaded. His business was to drive the mule.

"How much a day for the outfit?" I asked.

"Three-fifty for driver and team," the man answered.

"Do you own the team?"

"No; I drive for Mr. —."

"And how much do you get?"

"Seven dollars a week if I make full time."

A dollar a day for the man, a dollar and a quarter for each of the mules.

The man had a wife and three children to house, feed and clothe. The mule had no family, no coal hills, no clothing to buy.

The mule was paid $1.25 per day and the man a dollar.

Indeed, the mule had the best of it in other ways. If the weather was too bad for work, the mule had snug shelter and three full meals a day. If the man lost a day, it meant less food on the table and less coal on the fire. Enough lost days meant unpaid rent, an empty pantry, and another name on the charity list.

If the mule got sick, a skilled veterinary was called posthaste. He was too valuable to lose. If the man got sick, it was nobody's business to see that he got well. There were plenty of others to take his place.

For the stomach and bowel disorders of babies McGee's Baby Elixir is a remedy of genuine merit. It acts quickly, is pure, wholesome and pleasant to take. Price 25c and 50c per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Company.

"Are you in favor of government ownership?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "on one condition."

"What?"

"My own political party must be running the government."—Washington Star.

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAS. ROUBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rouberg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS THREATEN TO REVOLT

Yanks In Russia Anxious To Quit Russia For Home

Washington, April 10.—The first mutiny of American troops in the European war is confirmed today by advices to the War Department from Archangel, Russia: A company of infantry, when ordered to pack for the front, refused to obey the order. Only one man was arrested for the outbreak and he was afterwards released.

The mutiny was coupled with a demand by the Americans that they be brought back to their homes. It was intimated that unless officials here make some immediate announcement as to why the American soldiers are kept longer in service in Russia the mutiny will become general.

The War Department gave out only a paraphrase of the cable message, as follows:

The War Department authorizes publication of the following paraphrase of a code message received from Archangel, dated March 31:

"Yesterday morning, March 30, a company of infantry, having received orders to the railroad front, was ordered out of the barracks for the purpose of packing sleds for the trip across the river to the railroad station. The noncommissioned officer in charge of the packing soon reported to the officers that the men refused to obey. At this some of the officers took charge and all except one man began reluctantly to pack after a considerable delay. The soldier who continued to refuse was placed in confinement. Colonel Stewart being sent for, arrived and had the men assembled to talk with them. Upon the condition that the prisoner above mentioned was released, the men agreed to go. This was done, and the company then proceeded to the railway station and entrained there for the front. That they would not go to the front line positions was openly stated by the men, however, and they would only go to Obozerskaya. They also stated that general mutiny would soon come if there was not some definite statement forthcoming from Washington with regard to removal of American troops from Russia at the earliest possible date."

Fear Move May Spread.

What has alarmed officials more than any incident of the mutiny is that the mutineers indicate to the government that if the American troops in Russia are not brought home at "the earliest possible date" the refusal to obey the officers will be general.

Some of the War Department officials said tonight that the mere fact that the soldiers knew that mutiny, refusal to obey orders under such circumstances, would be a capital offense, making them liable to be shot after court-martial was an evidence that the officers who yielded to them were well aware that the men were, for reasons not made public, actually desperate. It is plain, officers here say, that when the officers were compelled to release a man ordered into confinement, that the latter were powerless and regarded themselves as in the hands of their men.

When the order to pack was given, the men obviously understood this to be an order for them to go to the front in the interior.

Prepare To Send Transports.

The men are said to have been informed that they would be withdrawn just as soon as the ice conditions permitted. It is known that the Navy and War Departments are making ready to get transports as near as possible to Archangel. It was the President who made the statement that the men in Russia would come out when conditions made it possible and it is understood if there is to be any expediting of the withdrawal he will give the order to the War Department from Paris.

Senator Johnson, of California, who conducted a flight in the Senate to have the American troops in Russia ordered home, declined to make any comment on the mutiny.

sponge moisture top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

PUT a pipe in your face that's filled cheerily brimful of Prince Albert, if you're on the trail of smoke peace! For, P. A. will sing you a song of tobacco joy that will make you wish your life job was to see how much of the national joy smoke you could get away with every twenty-four hours!

You can "carry on" with Prince Albert through thick and thin. You'll be after laying down a smoke barrage that'll make the boys think of the old front line in France!

P. A. never tires your taste because it has the quality! And, let it slip into your think-tank that P. A. is made by our exclusive patented process that cuts out bite and parch—assurance that you can hit smoke-record-high-spots seven days out of every week without any comeback but real smoke joy!

SLEEPING SICKNESS

Disease Here Unlike That Found
In South Africa

With the encroachment of what is, through error, called "sleeping sickness," in the South, many people are becoming alarmed, connecting the American disease with the fatal malarial in Africa. Dr. D. L. Mumpower, a medical missionary of the M. E. Church, South, to Africa, now in America on furlough, stated to a newspaper representative recently that there was no connection whatever between the two forms of sleeping sickness.

"In Africa sleeping sickness is caused by the bite of a fly, and the results are often fatal. At first the victim appears to have malaria, and within four or five months they are unable to shake off an intense drowsiness which gradually settles upon them for longer and longer periods of time. If the disease cannot be broken up before this period, there is little hope, though often the victim lingers for three or four years. It comes on slowly and lasts a long time. The medical missionary is doing a great deal of good preaching the gospel of hygiene, which will go a long way towards stopping the spread of that dread disease in Africa.

"The disease called sleeping sickness in America is not alarming, except that it is now and somewhat strange. But it only lasts a few weeks, the patient nearly always recovers and, often, is stronger and better for the experience. It appears to be rather a form of nervous prostration caused by great physical exhaustion or overstrained nerves. But the two sleeping sicknesses are not in the least alike in any of their symptoms; and if Americans had seen as many cases of the real thing as I have in Africa, they would not worry at all over the disease in their own country."

Catarh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known combined with some of the best purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarh conditions. Send testimonials, free.

We are authorized to announce J.
S. Mason a candidate for Representative of Ohio county, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election August 2, 1919.

We are authorized to announce George Baker, of Muhlenburg county a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the 7th Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Muhlenburg, Butler and Ohio, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election, August 2, 1919.

We are authorized to announce
Dr. T. G. Turner, of Muhlenburg County, as a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the 7th Senatorial district, composed of Ohio Butler and Muhlenburg counties, subject to the action of the Republican Party at the primary election to be held August 2nd., 1919.

STATEMENT

Of the ownership, management, circulation, etc., required by the act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of Hartford Republican, published weekly, at Hartford, Ky., for April 1, 1919.
State of Kentucky.)

(ss.
County of Ohio.)

Before me, a Notary Public, in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared J. H. Thomas, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Editor of The Hartford Republican, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied Regulations, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:
Publisher, Hartford Printing Co.,
Incorporated, Hartford, Ky.
Editor, John H. Thomas, Hartford, Ky.
Business Manager, W. S. Tinsley,
Hartford, Ky.

2. That the owners are: Hartford Printing Co., Incorporated, Stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock, are: C. E. Smith, E. G. Harraes, C. O. Hunter, Mack Cook, S. A.
Bratcher, T. H. Black, M. L. Heav-rin, W. S. Tinsley, W. C. Blankenship, Worth Tichegar, E. S. Howard
all of Hartford, Ky.; C. E. Crowder, Horton, Ky.; I. S. Mason and C. M.
Taylor, Beaver Dam, Ky.; H. C.
Crowder, Seely, Ky.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: The Bank of Hartford, Hartford, Ky.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

Homer Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, returns from a trip through the west and reports the outlook for Democratic success next year as encouraging. Among such encouragements Mr. Cummings reports the State of Indiana as safely Democratic. When it is recalled that Indiana returned a solid Republican delegation, of fifteen members, to congress no longredolent. He was modest enough not to claim Pennsylvania.

James F. Ramey, of Eddyville, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State. Mr. Ramey is a wellknown western Kentucky Republican leader.
He was formerly a banker, and under the Wilson administration had charge of the Banking department in Secretary of State Brumer's office. Jim Ramey is a little bundle of energy, and if nominated will make a fine vice candidate. The writer was pleasantly associated with Mr. Ramey at Republican headquarters in Louisville, last fall, and takes pleasure in saying of him that he is energetic, courageous and resourceful, and would make an ideal candidate for Secretary of State.

Some small towns are often referred to by visitors as the prettiest or the most delightful, when the compliment comes wholly from an impression made by the shade tree of their principal streets. What print and wall paper are to buildings shade trees are to streets—much added beauty at trifling cost or trouble.

Our inspiration comes too late for action the present season, but next spring we shall, even if we are away from Hartford, urge the planting of suitably arranged shade trees around the public square and along the principal streets, and we will gladly come back to assist at the planting.
Who that loves the old home town would not like to plant a tree to perpetuate his memory? Not another line now, but with the return of another spring we shall be here to urge and help provide for the beauty of the town and the comfort of its children and visitors for a generation to come.

We Are At Your Service As Usual

Mr. Farmer

WITH what we believe to be the best Tractors on the market for our territory, and we are fully conscious that field tests will bear out our assertion. After carefully looking over the Tractor field and considering our territory and the economy of operation and the perfection of operation, we decided that the

Fordson and Moline Universal Tractors were by far the best on the market for our customers.

Give us an opportunity to demonstrate to you on your own farm. If we are wrong, we want to know it.
We may teach you something that will benefit us. Lets get together and try these things out to our entire satisfaction. If you can't make money out of a Tractor we don't want you to buy one, and if you can't make money out of ours, you can't make money out of any.

As Usual

we have the old reliable lines of Walking Plows, Riding Plows, Corn Planters, Disc Harrows, Manure Spreaders, Cultivators, etc. All of which we know stands as high in efficiency and service as anything made.

We have competent men to look after your service, and we know we are better prepared to give you the most for your money. Come to see us, or call us and we will send a man to see you.

OFFICIAL SUMMARY OF REVISED LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT

Paris, April 12.—An official summary of the revised covenant of the League of Nations, issued tonight, makes specific mention of the Monroe Doctrine with respect to its bearing on the future activities of the league.

The covenant does not affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace.

The league, says the statement, will include all belligerent and neutral states named in a document annexed to the covenant and "in the future any self-governing country whose admission is approved by two-thirds of the States already members of the league."

Provided it has kept its obligations, a State may withdraw from the league on giving two years' notice, and States which signify their dissent from amendments approved by all the States on the council and a majority of those in the assembly, are not bound by them, but, in such case, cease to be members of the league.

Mandatories for the German colonies and the territories of the Ottoman Empire are provided. These colonies and territories are to be administered by States willing to be mandatories of the league, which will exercise general supervision.

The following official summary of the covenant of the League of Nations was issued this afternoon:

"First—The League of Nations is founded in order to promote international co-operation and to secure peace. The league will include: (a) The belligerent States named in a document annexed to the covenant; (b) All the neutral States named, and (c) In the future any self-governing country whose admission is approved by two-thirds of the States already members of the league.

"A State may withdraw from the league providing it has kept its obligations to date, on giving two years' notice.

Second—The league will not through an assembly comprising not more than three representatives of each of the member States, each State having only one vote, and a council comprising for the present one representative of each of the five great Powers and each of four other Powers as selected from time to time by the assembly.

"The members of Powers of each class represented on the council may be increased by the unanimous consent of the council and a majority of the assembly. Other Powers have the right to sit as members of the council during the decision of matters in which they are especially interested.

"In the council, as in the assembly, each State will have only one vote. Both these bodies are to meet at stated intervals (the council at least once a year) and at other times if required; both can deal with any matter that is of international interest or that threatens the peace of the world; the decision of both must be unanimous, except in certain specified cases, matters of procedure, for instance, being decided by a majority vote.

"The league will have a permanent Secretariat, under a Secretary General. The Secretariat and all other bodies under the league may include women, equally with men. A permanent court of international justice and various permanent commissions and bureaus are also to be established.

"Third—The member States agree: (A) To reduce their armaments, plans for such reduction being suggested by the council, but only adopted with the consent of the States themselves, and thereafter not to increase them without the concurrence of the council.

"(B) To exchange full information of their existing armies and their naval and military programmes.

"(C) To respect each other's territory and personal independence, and to guarantee them against foreign aggression.

"(D) To submit all international disputes either to arbitration or to inquiry by the council, which latter, however, may not pronounce an opinion on any dispute whose subject matter falls solely within a State's domestic jurisdiction; in no case to go to war till three months after, or an unanimous recommendation has been made, and even then not to go to war with a State which accepts the award.

"(E) To regard a State which has broken the covenant as having committed an act of war against the league, to break off all economic and other relations with it and to allow free passage through their territories to the troops of those States which are contributing armed force on behalf of the league. The council is to recommend what amount of force, if any, should be supplied by the several Governments concerned, but the approval of the latter is necessary. (States not members of the league will be invited to accept the obligations of the league for the purpose of particular disputes, and if they fail to comply may be forced.)

"(F) Not to consider any treaty binding till it has been communicated to the league, which will then proceed to publish it, to admit the right of the assembly to advise the reconsideration of treaties and international conditions which do not accord with present needs, and to be bound by no obligations inconsistent with the covenant.

"A State which breaks its agreements may be expelled from the league by the council.

Monroe Doctrine Upheld.

"Fourth—The covenant does not affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace.

"Fifth—The former German colonies and the territories of the Ottoman Empire are to be administered in the interests of civilization by the States which are willing to be mandatories of the league, which will exercise a general supervision.

"Sixth—The member States accept certain responsibilities with regard to labor conditions, the treatment of natives, the white slave traffic, the opium traffic, the arms traffic with uncivilized and semi-civilized countries, transit and trade conditions, public health and Red Cross societies.

"Seventh—The league is recognized as the central body interested in co-ordinating and assisting international activities generally.

"Eighth—Amendments to the covenant require the approval of all the States or the council and a simple majority of those in the assembly.

States which signify their dissent from amendments thus approved are not bound by them, but, in this case, cease to be members of the league."

CALIFORNIAN COMING HOME TO VOTE FOR ED

L. P. Crowder Writes Herald He Will Turn Up Nov. 4

Louisville Herald.

The spirit of a united Republican party in Kentucky that will devote its every energy in the next few months to "righting the wrong of 1915" has penetrated to the far reaches of Southern California. At Whittier, Cal., more than 1,800 miles distant from Kentucky, there is a transplant of Ohio County Republicans who are nursing the remembrance of 1915 and waiting eagerly to return to Kentucky and vote for Edwin P. Morrow for governor. His name is L. P. Crowder and he lives at 326 South Greenleaf street, Whittier. In a letter to the Herald Mr. Crowder asserts the Republicans of Kentucky "need not seek better timber than Morrow for governor." He expresses the hope that voters at the primary will decide against handicapping Morrow's candidacy with party "drones" and insist that if men are nominated who can command the respect of people of the commonwealth Morrow's victory is a foregone conclusion.

"Counted Out" Four years Ago. Mr. Crowder writes in part as follows:

"I am from Ohio county, Kentucky, and have been watching political events in my home state with much interest. I can tell from the spirit of the Republicans in Kentucky that Ed Morrow will be our nominee for Governor. No better timber need be sought. He was honestly elected years ago and, as I firmly believe, was dishonestly counted out. Then it was he displayed his many qualities and suitably accepted the result. How different from the Democrats of Kentucky—ever ready to file a contest!

"As I view it, it is written in the hearts of the voters of Kentucky regardless of party—to elect Ed Morrow governor this coming November. They know that Ed measures up to their estimate of a man's man. They know that he plays the game squarely and because he does this they know that he doesn't have to carry any cold decks around with him or depend upon jokers up his sleeve.

"Now, caution is the mother of safety. My advice to the party is to guard against putting any drones on the state ticket that must stand or fall in November. Nominate only men who can carry not only the full strength of their own party but who will command the respect of all the people of the commonwealth. You may depend upon it, Ed Morrow will do the rest!

"Remembering the many hard-fought battles we have had in old Kentucky, especially in Ohio County, I am counting the days until I shall turn my face eastward once again and returning to Kentucky in November will cast my ballot for the nephew of that great G. O. P. leader, the late William O. Bradley, who I have always regarded as the father of the Republican party in Kentucky."

Do You Sleep Well?

To be at his best a man must have sound, refreshing sleep. When wakeful and restless at night he is in no condition for work or business during the day. Wakefulness is often caused by indigestion and constipation, and is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Try a dose of these tablets and see how much better you feel with a clear head and good digestion.

DOES LUDENDORFF LIE TO SHIELD MASTER?

(By Seifridge Hennegan.)

Stockholm, Sweden—"I am alone to blame for the continuance of the war, with its horrors and tragedies. The Kaiser begged me to effect a compromise, but I remained firm. I thought we could win a military victory."

In a hard, bitter voice, void of any trace of remorse, Gen. Ludendorff literally spat these words at me across the table of a room in the Hotel Adlon. He was attired in a frock coat with dark trousers, and there was not a pleasing feature in his countenance, as, looking me full in the face, he proceeded to explain how Germany failed to secure victory.

"Germany could have won the war, he said with some heat. 'Germany, with her power for organization should have been victorious, but she was betrayed. At the very outset of the campaign some of our trusted leaders failed the Kaiser, and later the failure of the people of Germany. Therein lies the secret of our defeat.

"Had the army received the wholehearted support of the nation we should have crushed all resistance. But, when the people failed us, when the nation grew weary of the struggle, when private grievances were placed first, and the nation's exist-once last, is it to be wondered at that our soldiers grew weary, too, after the terrible bloodshed and suffering they were called upon to undergo."

The Biggest Lie.

"It is correct to say that when in 1916 you were appointed to the command it was with the object in finishing the war, with the object of effecting peace?" I asked.

Ludendorff stood up, and banging his fist on the desk, said hotly:

"There was never a bigger lie invented. I was called upon to take command when the armies were in a critical condition. But my orders were to win the war and make peace. There had been blunders; I was sent to rectify them, and I claim I succeeded in my task. Even in those far-off days, it was easy to see that the nation was not supporting the army in the way that was necessary; and my first task was to appeal to the nation. In that appeal I was only partially successful, but the soldiers remained firm.

"At home there were people who sighed for peace at any price, and they worked earnestly for the accomplishment of their purposes. But day after day my difficulties increased. The power of our enemies was growing, their will for destruction becoming stronger and stronger. Yet, I fought on, hoping we should receive the support of our people, which alone was necessary for a speedy termination of hostilities and victory. Throughout that support was withheld.

"It was not until August, 1918, that I surrendered my ideas. I saw then the hopelessness of continuing the struggle. The morale of the men was undermined by the wicked influences at work in the fatherland.

"I communicated my thoughts to the Kaiser, and his majesty seized upon the idea of peace. 'At last,' he exclaimed fervently. 'Thank God I have lived to see my generals say enough of bloodshed.'

"With the Kaiser's full consent and approval I communicated to the chancellor the information that the German armies could not hope to win a victory, and that diplomacy must now play her part."

I asked Gen. Ludendorff whether the crown prince was, as has been stated, anxious for war.

"Anxious?" he asked in amazement. "The crown prince, like his father, sought only peace. His one desire was to see Germany at peace with her neighbors.

"The crown prince begged me in 1917 to yield to a compromise.

Says People Failed.

"I tell you I am responsible for the continuance of the war. I relied upon the support of the whole nation, and that was denied me, hence I failed and others with me failed. The Kaiser and the crown prince are innocent of guilt."

"Save The Surface And You Save All"

National Slogan of the Paint Manufacturers' Association, Season 1919.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

PAINTS AND VARNISHES.

Costs more per gallon but less per job. For fifty-two years the Sherwin-Williams Company has been kept busy making better paints and varnishes—in every can of Sherwin-Williams' Products you get the best technical and practical knowledge in the field today. Their policy of always holding to the highest standard of quality has built for them the largest paint and varnish factory in the world and placed their products in every important domestic and foreign field. Intelligently used, these paints and varnishes are the most economical and best insurance against deterioration. If you have any doubt about color combinations or finishes, or too busy to give the matter proper attention we will gladly make suggestions.

A Paint or Varnish For Every Interior And Exterior Use

FLAT-TONE—

The ideal oil finish for the artistic decoration of walls, ceilings and interior woodwork. Altogether different from the ordinary kalsomine and cold-water finishes.

FLOORLAC—

For staining and varnishing the floors at one operation. Especially made and adapted for hard wear under foot. This product has always been used where a superior floor finish is desired.

POARCH and DECK—

A full finished oil paint specially prepared for outside exposures. Dries with a tough, elastic surface, capable of resisting most severe weather. The paint for porch floors, steps and decks of boats.

BRIGHTEN-UP-STAIN—

Brighten-Up Stain produces a finish with a high varnish luster and does not fade or lose its brightness like many similar products. Use it on your furniture and standing woodwork.

MARKOT—

The water-proof floor varnish, recommended for use on floors, both new and old, in residences, hotels, public institutions, office buildings and other places where hard usage is the order.

SEABLOT—

A water resisting interior varnish for furniture and inside woodwork of the highest grade. Excellent for tables, bathrooms, kitchens, etc. Dries dust free in three to four hours.

EXTERIOR—

The king of all outside spar varnishes. Use this where an absolutely waterproof varnish is necessary, such as on yachts, boats, store fronts, outside doors—will not turn white.

EARN RED—

A bright, handsome red that works easy, covers well and dries with a nice, smooth and durable finish. Use this for painting the barn, corn crib and rough fences.

BARN GRAY—

A very beautiful gray for the painting of outbuildings, fences. This paint has a good covering capacity, and like Earn Red is up in any size from 1/2 gallon to a barrel.

OLD BUTCH ENAMEL—

Use "Old Butch Enamel" where you want a durable white interior finish. It is a full-bodied, white enamel which produces the effect of rubbed work without the necessity of rubbing.

ENAMEL—

For use on inside walls, ceilings and woodwork where a high gloss finish is desired—dandy for clothes closets because it lightens the dark corners. In soft and delicate shades.

PORECELAN BATH ENAMEL—

A tough, tenacious and durable enamel for the bathtub that will not chip or flake. Frequent repainting is unnecessary as in the use of other enamels. Costs a little more—worth it.

AUTO and Buggy PAINT—

Frequent washing does not injure the gloss or durability of this paint. And it is easily applied in one operation. Especially good for quick repair work. Every desirable color.

FAMILY PAINT—

The handy home paint for baseboards, shelving, cupboards, flower boxes and the many little things about the house. Will stand repeated cleaning with soap and water, and wears well.

COLORS Ground In Oil—

We carry the complete S-W line of staid colors for the practical painter, decorator and sign-writer ground in oil. Packages: 12 1/2 and 25-pound pails. A most satisfactory product.

COLORS Ground In Japan—

Quick-drying paint for use as color-coats in the finishing of automobiles, coaches, cars, carriages and other highly finished surfaces. A recognized standard of excellence.

HANDCRAFT STAIN—

Here's a line of the highest grade artistic stains, exclusive in character. They have none of the objectionable features of water or spirit stains, and will not raise the wood grain.

OIL STAINS—

A moderate priced finish that indicates closely the color of wood of similar name. They possess strong staining qualities, are thoroughly uniform and produce beautiful color effects.

FLOORWIPES—

Floorwipes is not intended as a polish alone, but as an excellent condition cleaner and polisher. It makes old waxed and varnished surfaces look like new—no hard rubbing necessary.

SWP—

Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared (SWP), is the best paint we know of. There is no other material, either ready prepared or hand-mixed, that will give such uniformly good results. Every wanted color, in qt., 1/2 gal., 1 gal., and 5-gal. cans and barrels.

FLOORWAX—

Extensively used on autos, as well as on furniture where a waxed finish is desired; also suitable for ballrooms, bowling alleys, etc. Takes a high polish, wears well and will not scratch.

SCREEN ENAMEL—

For renewing old screens and preventing rust. Does not close up the mesh and dries with a high gloss that prevents dust and dirt from adhering to the surface. Gives double wear to screens.

S. W. SUELLACS—

Pure white and white, pure orange and orange for all uses for which white and orange shellac are desired. 1/2 pint, pint, quart, half-gallon and gallon cans. 141. Directions on label.
